Wisdom of the Saints

The effect of our sharing in the body and blood of Christ is to change us into what we receive.

The 2018 Mass Book

“He then took up a collection among all his soldiers, amounting to two thousand silver drachmas, which he sent to Jerusalem to provide for an expiatory sacrifice. In doing this he acted in a very excellent and noble way, inasmuch as he had the resurrection of the dead in view; for if he were not expecting the fallen to rise again, it would have been useless and foolish to pray for them in death. But if he did this with a view to the splendid reward that awaits those who had gone to rest in godliness, it was a holy and pious thought. Thus he made atonement for the dead that they might be freed from this sin” (2 Maccabees 12:43-46).

We will be accepting Mass Intentions for A.D. 2018 beginning June 1, 2017 at the rectory. Intentions may be offered for the dead to gain indulgences for them. You may offer Mass for deceased individuals (no more than 3 please) or for families. Intentions for Mass may also be offered for the living. One does not offer Mass for saints or the Blessed Mother since they are already in heaven.

Die and Pay Taxes

My dad was so fond of saying, “Paul there are two things you must do in life, and that is: Die and Pay Taxes.” Now while my dad may have avoided paying taxes he could not like all of us, cheat death. Death is the universal equalizer. Rich or poor, famous or infamous, faithful or apostate, we must all die.

Our Lord Jesus had to die and pay taxes too. He however did not cheat on his taxes. There is a scene in the Bible in which he tells Peter to go fishing and in the fish’s mouth there would be a gold coin. He then instructed Peter to pay the Temple tax for both of them. Jesus did however cheat death of its paralyzing effect. He is the first amongst us all to rise from the dead. His death was not one to end in his demise but result in his resurrection. We are in the midst of the Easter season, that time of year in which we celebrate the rising of Christ from the dead and the hope of our own resurrection.

Without this hope we could easily fall into despair. What would life be if after this life there is nothing – no paradise, no God, no company with the saints and angels? Are we destined to oblivion or does God have much in store for us?

Jesus became like us in everything, barring sin. He was born, suffered childhood diseases, was teased on the playground, betrayed by friends, and worked hard as a carpenter, but eventually the universal equalizer took his life. Imagine a God who would die an ignominious death just so that he could show us his love and that death does not have the final answer.

The 2 men on the crosses beside Jesus were ordinary guys. In fact both were rebels being punished for their insurrection. Yet look at the responses of each. One was self-satisfied in his misdeeds. He believed to the end that his rebellion and probably murders were justified and maybe even good. The other recognized his wrong doing. He repented and he begged Jesus to remember him when He comes into his kingdom. In other words he recognized Jesus as Lord and God and in his confession of faith he was saved. Jesus said, “Today you will be with me in Paradise.”

With these words of hope we are assured that though we may not be sinless saints, we are good thieves desiring nothing more than Christ’s pardon and eternal life in the loving presence of God and all our loved ones who have gone before us trusting in Christ’s mercy, love, and forgiveness.

It is true we all must pay our taxes and die. And while it is unlawful to cheat on taxes, it is in our Christian duty to cheat death. All we need to do is place our trust in Jesus who has robbed death of its sting by rising from death and leading us to heaven, the eternal presence of God.

Pax Christi, Fr. Paul

On April 24, at 7 PM my dear father, Joseph, passed away with his family at his side. He struggled with lung cancer and loneliness after my mother’s death last October. Please pray for him and my family.

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

Some monks and nuns trace their community origins back a thousand years or so, before it became customary to reserve the Blessed Sacrament in tabernacles. In their rules of life, which evolved from the lifestyle and prayer of their predecessors, the core experience of Christ’s presence is at the altar itself, and in the symbol of assembly for prayer. To this day, when the monks or nuns file into their church in procession, they march two by two, and then bow profoundly to the altar before turning and bowing in reverence toward the brother or sister at their side. It is probably more difficult, in practice, to revere the presence of Christ in a person who irks you by taking the car keys, shirking a work duty, or burning the toast!

We can trace in these religious orders’ enduring customs the ancient appreciation for the altar as the center of the church building, and of the community of the faithful as the Body of Christ. Usually, a monastery today will reserve the Blessed Sacrament in some quiet corner of the monastic church, in a fairly small space, more suitable for private prayer than for the gathering of the whole community. In a cloister, the architecture may allow the public limited access to this space. Liturgical law tells us, in both monasteries and parish churches, that there is no need for more than a few hosts in the place of reservation, just enough for viaticum, the “food for the journey” that is the final sacramental celebration for a dying Christian.

NOTICIAS PARA TI

TRADICIONES DE NUESTRA FE

El 3 de mayo en el sur de Ilocos, Filipinas, se celebra la fiesta del Cristo milagroso o Apo Lacay como lo llaman los filipinos. Esta imagen fue encontrada dentro de una caja que flotaba en el mar, junto con la Virgen Milagrosa. Fueron unos pescadores quienes hicieron el hallazgo. Los pescadores eran de los pueblos de Badoc y Sinait y decidieron llevarse el Cristo a Badoc, pero no lograron moverlo. Una vez que decidieron llevarse al Cristo a Sinait, la imagen se hizo muy ligera de peso, por lo cual se piensa que Cristo deseaba estar en Sinait.

Este Cristo negro recuerda a los Cristos milagrosos de Latinoamérica, como el Santo Cristo de Esquipulas (Guatemala), los Cristos de Tila, Chalma y Otaltitlán (México), el Señor de los Milagros (Perú) y otros. Probablemente se trata de una evangelización española ya que en 1595, el rey Felipe II mandó varios Cristos negros a los cristianos indígenas de América. En todo caso, estos Cristos han resultado milagrosos gracias a la fe del pueblo, porque como dice Jesús: nuestra fe es la que nos salva (Marcos 5:34; 10:46-52).

EN EL CAMINO

Una metáfora importante que se emplea para describir la vida cristiana es la de una peregrinación. En la segunda lectura de hoy, Pedro se dirige a la primera comunidad cristiana: “Vivan siempre con temor filial durante su peregrinar por la tierra” (1 Pedro 1:17). Al pensar en una peregrinación, normalmente se nos ocurre algún tipo de movimiento del punto A al punto B. La peregrinación cristiana, que comenzó en las aguas del bautismo (punto A) tiene como destino final la vida eterna con Dios en el cielo (punto B). Desafortunadamente, en el transcurso tomamos todo tipo de desvíos. Debido al pecado, tontamente nos desviamos y a veces parecemos incapaces de detectar la presencia del Señor. Hoy, el relato de los dos discípulos camino a Emaús ilustra el hecho de que, aunque nos sentamos abatidos o muy desviados, el Señor está allí, caminando junto a nosotros.
