Wisdom of the Saints

Don't spend your energies on things that generate worry, anxiety, and anguish. Only one thing is necessary: Lift up your spirit, and love God. —St. Pio of Pietralcina

Let nothing worry you;
Nothing dismay you;
Everything passes; God does not change.
If you have patience, you can do anything.
Those who have God want for nothing;
God alone is enough. —St. Teresa of Avila

O Jesus, keep me under the standard of your cross. Let me not just look at you crucified but have you living in my heart. —St. Bernadette

Grant me, O Lord my God, that I may not falter in times of prosperity or adversity, so that I may not be exalted in the former, not dejected in the latter. —St. Thomas Aquinas

Into your hands, Father of mercies, we commend our brothers and sisters in the sure and certain hope that, together with all who have died in Christ, they will rise with him on the last day (Order of Christian Funerals, 175).

As you already might know, my father and mother passed away within 6 months of each other. Dad, died peacefully this past April; Mom in October. What has surprised me is that I am not as sad as I thought I would be. Of course I miss them but I do believe that they are at peace and that the suffering they endured from cancer and other ailments is now over.

I ride my exercise cycle each morning. Next to it are two photos of my parents. One from their 40th anniversary when they renewed vows at St. Margaret's Church. The other was taken last May. I took this photo with my smartphone and it turned out to be a most excellent shot. Prior to their deaths, each morning I would look at their image, pray for them and wish I could be with them. They seemed far away, all the way on the Island. I was here and they were there. I was really saddened that I could not be near them. The other day however, as I gazed on their images, it struck my heart that they are no longer far away, they are within me, nearer to me now more than ever. They appeared to be more present to me now than ever before. Any sadness has dissipated because I now know that they truly rest in peace and by the grace of God are enjoying his magnificent Presence. The moment is hard to explain. It is one of those mystical experiences that when it happens, joy enters the heart, understanding enlightens the minds and peace settles in the soul, but to explain it all, I cannot find the words.

The mystery of the death of the Christian and his union with God can only be known in the Spirit. Now I think I know what St. Paul meant when he said: We have not received the spirit of the world but the Spirit that is from God, so that we may understand the things freely given us by God. And we speak about them not with words taught by human wisdom, but with words taught by the Spirit, describing spiritual realities in spiritual terms (1 Cor 2:12-13).

Yes, the dead who died in Christ live and we as members of Christ's mystical body, are united to them in this otherworldly union of the Head and the Body; one in Christ, one in the Spirit, forever in the presence of God.

Pax Christi, Fr. Paul

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

At the heart of today's solemnity is a Eucharistic procession, held in many parishes, that calls to mind the procession of Holy Thursday, yet has a purpose different from the somber adoration in the night watch. In the late Middle Ages, a procession through the city with the Blessed Sacrament was an occasion of heartfelt joy and great emotion. In a time when people seldom approached the altar to receive Holy Communion, the procession through the streets, past homes and workplaces, was a vibrant reminder that Christ was with them as a dear companion and guide.

Every year on this day, a joyful procession winds through the streets of Rome from the Lateran cathedral. A few years ago, Pope John Paul II, deeply moved at the sight of the throng accompanying the sacred host, said that we ought to feel profoundly united with the faithful everywhere in the world at such a moment. "Before our mind's eye all the Churches of the world, from East to West, from North to South, are present." Originally this feast was on the Thursday after Trinity Sunday, but after the calendar reform of 1970, its title was expanded from "Corpus Christi" to "The Body and Blood of Christ" and in the United States it was moved to the Sunday after Trinity Sunday. Even though Easter season ended two weeks ago, this beautiful feast is aglow with Easter light.—Rev. James Field, Copyright © J. S.

The 2018 Mass Book

We began accepting Mass Intentions for 2018 on June 1, 2017 at the rectory. Intentions may be offered for the dead to gain indulgences. Memorial Mass for Oscar Bradford June 20 at 12:10

When Oscar passed away he left behind a small family who lives a distance away. He had expressed to his daughter how lonely he was and how few friends he had so she did not plan a funeral Mass. This was far from the truth. Many of us appreciated and loved Oscar.

On June 20, I will celebrate a memorial mass for Oscar at 12:10 PM and then I will go to George Washington Cemetery in Paramus and bless his grave. Afterward I will take lunch. I invite anyone who cared for Oscar to join me.

CONFIANZA EN JESÚS

La fiesta de hoy celebra otro misterio central de nuestra fe: el misterio de la Eucaristía. Como el misterio de la Trinidad, la presencia real del Cuerpo y de la Sangre de Cristo en la Eucaristía nunca se puede entender completamente, sino que sólo se puede creer. Así como a los israelitas en el desierto se les invitó a poner su fe en la palabra de Dios dirigida a ellos, a nosotros se nos invita a confiar plenamente en las palabras de Jesús. En el Evangelio de hoy Jesús promete darnos una porción de su propia carne y sangre, y además compartir la vida eterna. Somos llamados a creer en su palabra y a abrir nuestro corazón para recibir verdadero alimento y vida por nuestra participación en la Eucaristía.

TRADICIONES DE NUESTRA FE

Esta celebración del Día de los Padres tuvo su origen en 1910, en los Estados Unidos de América. Aunque la práctica comenzó en 1910, no fue sino hasta 1972 que se fijó un día oficial para celebrar al papá. Poco a poco esta fecha del segundo domingo de junio se ha ido expandiendo al resto del mundo con algunas excepciones. En Italia por ejemplo, la fiesta del padre se celebra el 19 de marzo, día de san José.

Durante la Revolución Industrial del siglo diecinueve, José, esposo de María recibió su primera fiesta oficial. La Iglesia, preocupada por el ingreso del padre a las fábricas, propuso a este santo varón como ejemplo de lo que los padres deben ser en la vida de sus hijos e hijas; ejemplos de fe, ternura y trabajo. Aún en nuestro tiempo, el Rito del Bautismo de Niños insiste que el padre, junto con la madre, deben ser los mayores maestros de sus hijos. Al igual que José, el papá debe cuidar y proteger a su familia, enseñarle a los niños a trabajar y ser honestos para el bien de la familia y la sociedad.
