THE MYSTERIES OF CHRIST'S LIFE

561 "The whole of Christ's life was a continual teaching: his silences, his miracles, his gestures, his prayer, his love for people, his special affection for the little and the poor, his acceptance of the total sacrifice on the Cross for the redemption of the world, and his Resurrection are the actualization of his word and the fulfilment of Revelation" John Paul II, CT 9).

562 Christ's disciples are to conform themselves to him until he is formed in them (cf □ Gal 4:19). "For this reason we, who have been made like to him, who have died with him and risen with him, are taken up into the mysteries of his life, until we reign together with him" (LG 7 # 4).

563 No one, whether shepherd or wise man, can approach God here below except by kneeling before the manger at Bethlehem and adoring him hidden in the weakness of a new-born child.

564 By his obedience to Mary and Joseph, as well as by his humble work during the long years in Nazareth, Jesus gives us the example of holiness in the daily life of family and work.

565 From the beginning of his public life, at his baptism, Jesus is the "Servant", wholly consecrated to the redemptive work that he will accomplish by the "baptism" of his Passion.

The Greatest Commandment

The commandment to love God with all of our being is called the greatest commandment because it is essential for our salvation. Yet it is the one most forgotten or ignored. How often the name of God is misused. Society is quick to relegate him to periphery. But the Lord tells us that it is written in our hearts. It is part of the natural law to love and obey the Creator. We don't need to look for it anywhere else or wait for someone to tell us about it. Love of God and love of our neighbor is so basic to our humanity we sometimes take it for granted.

Jesus gives us the example of the Good Samaritan, someone whom the Jews considered to be less than the Romans. They were considered unworthy of the normal attention or the respect that should be given to everyone. Even the Jewish law requires that the stranger and the alien be given hospitality; but the Samaritan was not given this respect. He was less than an animal. Yet it was the Samaritan who took the time to show love to not only his neighbor, but to his enemy, a Jew; while the priest and the Levite, those considered the leaders of society passed by one of their own. They were more concerned about their ritual purity, than about charity.

Imagine if you were coming to Mass, and someone was in desperate need of your help, but if you stopped it would make you late or even miss Mass. So then you pass that person by and rush off to Mass. Would you then be approaching the Sacrament in grace or in disgrace? We offend the sacrifice offered on the altar if we have failed to fulfill the greatest commandment. That is, to love God with all our being and to love our neighbor as ourself. So when we approach the Eucharist, we must take inventory of our present lives. Do we love God with all our mind, being, strength, and heart? That is, do we put our lives in his hand or do we pretend that it's all about us? Do we present to Jesus our best, or come to church looking our worst both internally and externally? Is our dress modest or indecent? Are our contributions a last minute consideration or generous gift? Are our prayers from the heart or just endless words of request? Do we come to Mass out of love or out of some old habit or even guilt? And do we trust God in everything? Are we holding back from God, the One who has given us everything?

Likewise, how have we loved our neighbors as ourselves? Do we respect them and give them the attention they need? Are we honest with them or do we gossip? Do we look at the opposite sex as a person deserving of true love, or do we see her/him as objects of our lustful desires? Do we honor others' possessions or do we covet them?

My brothers and sisters, to enter into heaven, to enter into the mystery of the Mass, we must be lovers of Christ and of all that is created through him. We cannot say we love him if we hate or are indifferent to our neighbor. That would make us liars and undeserving of eternal life.

As Jesus said to his disciples, "Follow the greatest commandment and you will live."

Pax Christ, Fr. Paul

The 2019 Mass Book

“He then took up a collection among all his soldiers, which he sent to Jerusalem to provide for an expiatory sacrifice. In doing this he acted in a very excellent and noble way, inasmuch as he had the resurrection of the dead in view; for if he were not expecting the fallen to rise again, it would have been useless and foolish to pray for them in death. But if he did this with a view to the splendid reward that awaits those who had gone to rest in godliness, it was a holy and pious thought. Thus he made atonement for the dead that they might be freed from this sin” (2 Maccabees 12:43-46).

Masses for 2019

Making Those Funeral Arrangements

Planning or even thinking about one's own funeral is unpleasant and therefore something we tend to push far out of our minds. When the time finally comes it leaves the family stressed and overwhelmed by all the decisions they must make. You can relieve some of this stress for your loved ones by planning your Funeral Liturgy (Mass of Christian Burial). Lynn Berhalter would like to assist you in choosing the Scriptures to be read at your funeral Mass according to the archdiocesan guidelines. She can also help you choose the hymns that will add to the solemnity of your Mass. This is simple to do and it helps fulfill your wishes and eases your families' burden.

Make an appointment to see Lynn at the rectory to get started.

Your plans will be kept on file at Holy Trinity Church and may be amended anytime if you wish. Planning ahead ensures your family that the readings and music you desired are carried out and they need not worry. It is a beautiful final gesture, a gift to those who grieve. Call 201-343-5170 now and make your appointment.

“LOS MISTERIOS DE LA VIDA DE CRISTO”

561 "Para quien la contempla rectamente la vida entera de Cristo fue una continua enseñanza: su silencio, sus milagros, sus gestos, su oración, su amor al hombre, su predilección por los pequeños y los pobres, la aceptación total del sacrificio en la cruz por la salvación del mundo, su resurrección, son la actuación de su palabra y el cumplimiento de la revelación" (CT 9).

562 Los discípulos de Cristo deben asemejarse a él hasta que él crezca y se forme en ellos (cf. Ga 4, 19). "Por eso somos integrados en los misterios de su vida: con él estamos identificados, muertos y resucitados hasta que reinemos con él (LG 7).

563 Pastor o mago, nadie puede alcanzar a Dios aquí abajo sino arrodillándose ante el pesebre de Belén y adorando a Dios escondido en la debilidad de un niño.

564 Por su sumisión a María y a José, así como por su humilde trabajo durante largos años en Nazaret, Jesús nos da el ejemplo de la santidad en la vida cotidiana de la familia y del trabajo.

565 Desde el comienzo de su vida pública, en su bautismo, Jesús es el "Siervo" enteramente consagrado a la obra redentora que llevará a cabo en el "bautismo" de su pasión.
