Life with Christ: The Creed
Eternal Life

"I BELIEVE IN LIFE EVERLASTING"

1056 Following the example of Christ, the Church warns the faithful of the "sad and lamentable reality of eternal death" (GCD 69), also called "hell."

1057 Hell's principal punishment consists of eternal separation from God in whom alone man can have the life and happiness for which he was created and for which he longs.

1058 The Church prays that no one should be lost: "Lord, let me never be parted from you." If it is true that no one can save himself, it is also true that God "desires all men to be saved" (1 Tim 2:4), and that for him "all things are possible" (Mt 19:26).

1059 "The holy Roman Church firmly believes and confesses that on the Day of Judgment all men will appear in their own bodies before Christ's tribunal to render an account of their own deeds" (Council of Lyons II [1274]: DS 859; cf. DS 1549).

1060 At the end of time, the Kingdom of God will come in its fullness. Then the just will reign with Christ for ever, glorified in body and soul, and the material universe itself will be transformed. God will then be "all in all" (1 Cor 15:28), in eternal life.

STEWARDSHIP

Last Sunday's Collection/Colecta de Domingo Pasado: $TBA

In generating children, parents are collaborators of God.

Pope Francis stressed this during his Angelus address today at noon to the faithful in St. Peter's Square, as he recalled that today marks the Feast Day of the Nativity of St. John the Baptist. St. John's birth, the Jesuit Pope reminded, is the event that illuminates the lives of his parents, Elizabeth and Zechariah, which they never expected and assumed had become impossible, due to their advanced age.

"These elderly parents had dreamed and even prepared that day, but now they no longer expected it: they felt excluded, humiliated, disappointed: they had no children," Francis said. "But God does not depend on our logic and our limited human capacities," the Pope continued, urging: "We must learn to trust and to be silent in the face of the mystery of God and to contemplate in humility and silence his work, which is revealed in history and which so often exceeds our imagination."

With their baby's birth, Elizabeth and Zechariah experience that "nothing is impossible to God" and are overjoyed. The Pontiff called on faithful to remember those who discussed joyously this miraculous birth of John, and they did so with joy, happily, with a sense of amazement, surprise and gratitude.

Looking at this, the Pope called on all faithful to ask themselves some questions: "how is my faith? Is it a joyful faith, or is it always the same faith, a "flat" faith? I have a sense of amazement when I see the works of the Lord, when I hear about the evangelization or the life of a saint, or when I see many good people: do I feel grace inside, or is there nothing moving in my heart? Can I feel the consolations of the Spirit or am I closed?"

"Let us ask each of us, in an examination of conscience: How is my faith? Is it joyous? Is it open to God's surprises? Because God is the God of surprises.

The Holy Father prayed that the Blessed Virgin Mary help us to understand that in every human person there is the imprint of God, the source of life.

"She, Mother of God and our Mother, makes us more and more aware that in generating a child, parents act as collaborators of God, a truly sublime mission that makes each family a sanctuary of life and awakens – every birth of a child – joy, amazement, gratitude."

OBSTACLES

The prophet Ezekiel, Saint Paul, and the Lord Jesus share something in common in today's scripture readings. They all experience obstacles to their ministry. Ezekiel is summoned to prophesy to the Israelites, who are "[h]ard of face and obstinate of heart" (Ezekiel 2:4). Saint Paul recounts how he has been given a "thorn in the flesh" (2 Corinthians 12:7). The Lord Jesus is unable to perform many signs in his native place. The Gospel tells us that "[he] was amazed at their lack of faith" (Mark 6:6). We too sometimes encounter obstacles as we travel along the journey of faith. So often we experience weakness on this journey. Let the words of the Lord to Saint Paul encourage us today: "My grace is sufficient for you, for power is made perfect in weakness" (2 Corinthians 12:9).

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

Last week's Treasure mentioned the "Nuns of the Battlefield," religious sisters from several communities who served as nurses in the Civil War. Florence Nightingale had only instituted female nurses a decade before in the Crimean War, so the idea of women tending to wounded soldiers was extraordinary. The medical and sanitary conditions on the battlefields were appalling, and the sisters were nearly all teachers. Few had any medical training beyond what they had learned as youngsters in the family. Anti-Catholic prejudice was so deeply entrenched in America that sisters could not wear their habits in public. These sisters were the first, and people on both the Union and Confederate sides soon began to marvel at their bravery, efficiency, and respect for Protestant soldiers. More than six hundred sisters from twenty-one communities went to war, serving in wretched conditions. They were tough and single-minded, efficient and fearless.

After the war, sisters could appear in public everywhere in the reunited nation, and often received the praise and gratitude of grateful soldiers and family members on behalf of their sister nurses. An outdoor monument to the "Nuns of the Battlefield" stands in Washington at M Street and Rhode Island Avenue. The inscription reads: "They comforted the dying, nursed the wounded, carried hope to the imprisoned, gave in His name a drink of water to the thirsty."

Sanctity of Life

GOOD NEWS

June 26, the U.S. Supreme Court issued a great Pro-life Victory for Pro-Life Pregnancy Centers. The Case is known as National Institute of Family and Life Advocates (NIFLA) v. Becerra. The plaintiffs in this case were pro-life pregnancy centers who challenged a California state law that (1) required medically licensed pro-life pregnancy centers to post notices alerting clients that the state of California provides free or low cost abortions and to include a phone number the clients can use and (2) required non-medically licensed centers to note, in thirteen languages, that they do not have a medical provider on staff.

In the 5-4 decision, the Supreme Court ruled that the first part of the law "likely violates the First Amendment" and the second part "unduly burdens protected speech."

Vida con Cristo: El Credo La Vida Eterna

“CREO EN LA VIDA ETERNA”

1057 La pena principal del infierno consiste en la separación eterna de Dios en quien solamente puede tener el hombre la vida y la felicidad para las cuales ha sido creado y a las cuales aspira. 1058 La Iglesia ruega para que nadie se pierda: "Jamás permitas [...] Señor, que me separe de ti" (Oración antes de la Comunión, 132: Misal Romano). Si bien es verdad que nadie puede salvarse a sí mismo, también es cierto que "Dios quiere que todos los hombres se salven" (1 Tm 2, 4) y que para Él "todo es posible" (Mt 19, 26).

1059 "La misma santa Iglesia romana cree y firmemente confiesa que [...] todos los hombres comparecerán con sus cuerpos en el día del juicio ante el tribunal de Cristo, para dar cuenta de sus propias acciones (DS 859; cf. DS 1549).

1060 Al fin de los tiempos, el Reino de Dios llegará a su plenitud. Entonces, los justos reinarán con Cristo para siempre, glorificados en cuerpo y alma, y el mismo universo material será transformado. Dios será entonces "todo en todos" (1 Co 15, 28), en la vida eterna.
